Nothing

Nothing or no thing?

Every human has a choice to do something or not? But what the choices do, is there only good choices or also exists the bad choices?
It is up to every living being.

Essential in this realm is this, that the choice a living being do here does not hurt other living being? Or else … “karma” takes account.

Yes we eat animals, but then the animal goes “inside our realm” to fulfill it's destiny. Yes I know it is cruel, but it is so. In nature also has the sheeps and the lions and the “other animals”.
