Tomorrow

Is the day after today.

Well the time is 04:48 at the moment I write here this pist. But 4+4=8

Well I dont remember excactly what happens in tomorrow here, but during the nights I see several conversation drafts what I say tomorrow to some body or to some one. Well the living body is this object or not it does not matter to me, as I have all my future talks also seen in my childhood dreams. Is this object a cat or dog or human or bee or ant in nature. Sometimes I also talk with the wind and rhunder and with stars above us. Well the stars above us is illuminating us all here on our planet, I think. And all our actions and choises is also written to the stars, belive this or not.

We are “one” with all the universe, not only our earth here, because the earth is also part of our universe.
